

Cullman County SWCD 2014 Environmental Education Teacher Workshop

The Cullman County Soil and Water Conservation District held a 3-day environmental education teacher workshop on June 24-26, 2014. This is their 18th year to host a teacher workshop that is free to all teachers/coordinators who attend. This was a 3-day workshop and there were 24 teachers/coordinators that attended.

Day 1 – Raised bed gardening with Auburn Extension Service Raydonna Sims

Making Terrariums with Rachel Dawsey - Agriplex Heritage Center Coordinator

Gourd crafting with Katie Westmoreland

Day 2 was a visit to the Alabama Mountain Rivers and Valleys RC&D Waterworks Center for Environmental Education. There they toured the facility and then went on an afternoon canoe trip down Flint Creek.

Day 3 started off with April Waltz doing a program on studying soils for outdoor classrooms and worm composting. Then they ended with soil buddy designing, making dirt cakes and painting t-shirts.
